WAIT FOR EVACUATION

Bishop Clark Sends Mackintosh a Letter.

THE CHURCH WILL ADJUST MATTERS

The Second Congregation Upheld.
Services Held on Deck of Transport Solace.

Rev. Alexander Mackintosh, rector of the Second Congregation of St. Andrew's Cathedral, received a letter by the Sierra's mail from Bishop Clark of Rhode Island, the presiding dignitary of the House of Bishops, in which the latter advises the Second Congregation to remain in a quiescent state until the evacuation of the See by Bishop Willis, at which time he says the differences in the Anglican cathedral will be adjusted to the satisfaction of every true churchman. The tone of the letter indicates that Bishop Clark is in accord with what has been done by the Second Congregation with respect to its trouble with Bishop Willis, and its members feel that their course has been looked upon favorably. As there is yet six weeks remaining until the time when Bishop Willis will step aside and relinquish the reins of authority in Episcopal church matters in Hawaii, the Second Congregation will probably hold regular Sunday services in one of the many church edifices which have been offered by their respective pastors to Mr. Mackintosh.

The Second Congregation held services yesterday, but not in St. Andrew's cathedral, as the padlock remains on the door to every Second Congregationist.
Through the courtesy of Captain Herbert Winslow, U. S. N., and of Chaplain Frank Thompson, U. S. N., of the United States Naval Transport Solace, Rev.
Alex. Mackintosh and his congregation were given the opportunity to worship on that vessel. Chaplain Thompson relinquishing the deck to his reverend guest.
The invitation was generally accepted by the members of the roving congregation, and a goodly number took part in the services. The sailors and marines were also called to services, and the situation was thoroughly appreciated by all present.
Mr. Mackintosh preached the sermon, and Captain Winslow contributed by singing a solo. Both ministers wore their Episcopal robes.

Chaplain Thompson is no stranger to Honolulu. He has many friends in the Islands, as he has been here on about twenty different occasions, and is perhaps best remembered as the chaplain attached to the cruiser Charleston. During an absence of Mr. Mackintosh several years ago, Chaplain Thompson took charge of his congregation. He is at present a passenger on the Solace, returning to the States from Manila, where he has been stationed for about two years and a half. He was lately on the cruiser Brooklyn, the senior flagship of the Asiatic squadron.

GOLDEN DREAM OF THOS. EVANS

The New El Dorado in Masbate Was a Costly
Myth.

Thomas Evans, once a resident of Honolulu, but now a business man in Manila, has had many golden dreams in the past year, of fabulous wealth to be extracted from the island of Masbate, situated about a hundred miles south of the southern extremity of Luzon, but lately he had a rude awakening. That dreams go by contraries was proven in his case, and Evans is out a few thousand dollars for his credulity. For more than a year the little island has been held out as the El Dorado of the Philippines, the vast mineral wealth of which would make the Klondike and Nome Creek turn green with envy. For a couple of years several scores of miners have been drawing from prominent Manila business and professional men thousands of dollars for expenses for developing rich claims, and holding down the titles to mines of vast wealth until the introduction of American mining laws, which would enable them to register and make their backers millionaires.

Evans was one who had implicit faith in the reports of gold and money was easily obtained from him for "prospecting." "Prospecting" went on for such a long time that Evans and a partner determined to ascertain whether or not there really existed evidence of treasure in the new El Dorado. With this end in view, they engaged the services of Washington B. Vanderlip, an expert mining engineer, and the report which he furnished to his clients upon his return is what caused the Masbate bubble to burst.
Not a ray of hope is left to the men who have been dreaming of untold millions.

Mongoose Must Go.

The Chronicle says: Collector Stratton was indorsed yesterday by Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Spaulding in his action regarding the mongoose which Dr. J. B. Hallwood, an army surgeon, attempted to import from the Philippines. The collector sustained Deputy Surveyor St. John in refusing to allow the surgeon to have his pet, the breed being barred out by section Q of the recent department circular. Hallwood was angry at what he termed such "high-handed actions," and appealed the matter to Washington, where it was laid before the Secretary. In the instructions to the Collector the Secretary says:

"Your action was proper and cannot be disturbed." It only remains for Hall-wood to pay for the deportation of the animal or permit the customs officers to kill it without further delay.

BALLINGER-MACFARLANE.

It Was a Quiet Ceremony and Took Place February 6.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 7.—Edward C.
Macfarlane of Honolulu was married here yesterday to Miss Florence Ballinger.
The wedding was very quiet, but a small reception followed. The Chronicle says of the ceremony:

Under a canopy of ferns and smilax and beautiful flowers, Miss Florence I.
Ballinger was pronounced the wife, yesterday afternoon, of Edward C. Macfarlane of Honolulu. The lighted candles, the artificially darkened room, the wealth of floral decorations and the pretty girl relatives of the bride, all made a charming picture. Rev. Father Lyons officiated. It was a quiet little home and family affair, with only about twenty persons present, they being the near relatives of the bride. After the congratulations there followed a reception and wedding breakfast at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Robert Watson, 3215 Twenty-third street.

Mr. and Mrs. Macfarlane departed immediately upon a wedding trip that will extend through the Eastern cities and possibly include a European tour.

The Call says:

Miss Florence I. Ballinger and E. C.
Macfarlane of Honolulu were married yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Watson, 3215 Twenty-third street, this city. The wedding was a very quiet affair, only the immediate family being present. Mr. and Mrs.
Macfarlane left last evening for a trip East, after which they will live in Honolulu. The bride is noted for her beauty and charm of manner. The groom is widely known in the States as well as the Islands and comes of a prominent family.

HOME RULER OPPOSES WOMEN

Legislative Policy Proposed at Recent Meeting of the Committee.

At one of the recent meetings of the Home Rulers a former member of the Legislature outlined a policy, which he suggested should be considered by the party as a feature of the program in the coming Legislature. The Home Ruler suggested that the party take up the matter of the employment of women in official positions, and as a body, declare themselves opposed to their being appointed under the Territorial government.

The question was discussed at some length, but did not amount to much, as no vote was taken. It is understood that the assumption of power which Theresa Wilcox has manifested in the Home Rule meetings, had much to do with the proposed policy, as most of the members of the executive committee would very much desire that she remain away from their gatherings.
Nor is she wanted in office in case the Home Rulers have any to give.

Increased Salary Bill.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 6.—A dispatch from Washington dated February 4 says: Delegate Wilcox today introduced a bill amending section 92 of the Hawaiian government act and fixing the salaries of the Territorial officers. The governor is allowed $8000, with $3000 for a private secretary and $500 for incidentals; secretary of the Territory, $5000; chief justice of the Supreme Court, $6000; associate justices, $5500 each; Circuit Court judges, $4500 each; District Judge, $6000; marshal, $4000; United States Attorney $4800.

CLOSE CALL.

Clara—"I had an awful time when I refused him."
Maud—"How do you mean?" Clara—"Why, he took it in earnest, and I had to explain that I didn't mean it."

Halpruner's Cures Catarrh

Dr. Halpruner's Wonderful Medicine is an absolutely safe and sure cure for catarrh, c. d. in the head and all affections caused by inflammation of the membranes. If you will take it as directed, as conscientiously as you take your meals, you will get over your catarrh and its annoying, sickening unpleasantness.

All druggists should sell Halpruner's—if you find one that does not go to the next one—don't let any druggist impose upon you by selling something of his own preparation. If you want to be cured demand the genuine

Halpruner's

I know positively that Dr. Halpruner's Wonderful Pain Remover is a medicine of exceptional merit, for my family has used it for many years. I would not make this statement without a positive, personal knowledge whereof I speak, for I do not believe in recommending medicines without merit. As a family remedy, good for catarrh, sore throat, cold, headaches, cuts, bruises, sprains, rheumatism, neuralgia, and, in fact, what all good medicines are good for, I strongly advise the use of Dr. Halpruner's wonderful medicine.
